Summary of the evaluation.

The response rate is 31% which is quite low , below is a summary of the results.

Participants in this course have on average spent 21-30 hours a week on studies including scheduled time. And the majority have experienced that they had good prior knowledge for the course . As for the information and administration associated with the course , there are different opinions but overall student have experienced the information as good, however there are also oppinions that the course website could have been more updated.

In the actual classroom the participants experience the discussion climate as good with room for questions and exchange of views. However some have felt that the teacher responds to students' questions before they formulated themselves clearly . And it has given a feeling of unanswered questions.

The overall impression of the course is good and the participants felt that the course addressed all learning outcomes as stated in the syllabus and grading criteria have been clear. One have felt that the teacher have been very dedicated and keen about students to understand, and that have been appreciated. But one have also experienced that the scope have been too large and that it has been too much information sometimes , and that the course has been greater than 7.5 credits .

Participants respond unanimously that the course's difficulty level has been good, but some have experienced a lack of a common theme in the course.
