Course leaders comments

It is only 33% of the students that answered so it is difficult to draw conclusions, but the six students that answered seem satisfied with the course. From the comments I can see that the student(s) that gave low scores on questions about the oral presentation and feedback had not yet had their own presentation. That some students had not yet had their presentations can also be an explanation for the low number of students answering the evaluation. It is a problem with the evaluation of the degree projects, that students start and finish at other times than the start and end of the semester. I prolonged the time for answering the evaluations, but at some point it has to be closed. I choose to close it at September 22. I will try to write more messages to the students about answering the evaluation this semester and hope to get a higher proportion answers next time.
