Course leaders comments

This year the course was given via zoom, which was new and very different from previous years. Despite the distance learning format, it felt like I was able to interact with the students and have discussions. The small class size probably helped facilitate discussion.

Student representatives comments

The overall impression of the course is very good. The zoom experience seems to have had no, or very little, effect on the course. Some students even thought it was better. There were some difficulties with the exercises and it would have been better if the teacher had his own. But the teacher was always helpful and answered all questions on mail or in class. There were some comments about the exam, the students did not think that they could show what they have learned. The exercises and articles were not as big part of the exam as thought through the many lectures on them. Otherwise, as understood from some discussion with the students, interesting course with a good teacher.
