Course leaders comments

Given that it was the first time the course was given I think the evaluation is quite satisfactory. The question related to sustainable aspects scored 3.8 and this is something to keep in mind until next course. More emphasis will be given on that. Distance learning was not scored high (3.7) either, hopefully this will not be necessary next year. Overall only five out of approximately 35 students answered which is a pity, a problem here could be that the course is the only one at SLU that most of the students attend.
