Course leaders comments

Overall comments:

This year, the course found its structure (second time for the course), and I am happy with the course content. There was a very engaged group of students attending the course, about 12 active students in the end. The course is on advanced level, and requires scientific skills, in relation to find, read and understand scientific literature.

Sorry enough, only 3 students had the possibility to fill in the Evald evaluation. However, after the two first weekends we did a course evaluation so I have been following the students thoughts during the whole course.

I will remind Karin to put some student comments from the course.

Next time, we will try to get a structure in the sampling of data, and in the feed back to project work. The feed back should come earlier and not in the end.

Student representatives comments

Unfortunately, only three students responded to the evaluation. These were the most positive comments. There were some comments that there was still old information and information from the previous course that did not match the ongoing course.

My impression during the course and from the comments from the evaluation is that we have had interesting and open discussions where everyone has contributed, and everyone has been heard and respected. Overall, it feels like most people were satisfied with the content and of the course!

Despite we didn't have any real-life meetings, it has worked very well! Of course, you get another type of discussion when you see each other face to face but with current situation this was handle well. Discussions in small groups helped.
