Course leaders comments

Thanks to everyone who found the time to comment and leave feedback on this course! I appreciate the many positive comments on the structure and delivery of the course, and especially how the assessment (using reflection assignments instead of traditional knowledge-based exams) helped you find what was most applicable to your own field of study. Going forward, I will add the option of students sharing their assignments with others if they choose, so that each student can read and learn from each other. I think that could be a valuable learning tool in the course. Other than that, thanks for the encouragement, your excellent discussions in the course forum that I always learn something interesting from, your amazing insights in your assignments that give me hope, and I wish all my students the very best in their future studies and work! Take care everyone / Matt
