Course leaders comments

Many of the responding students had very positive opinions on the course and found that the contents had clear links to the learning objectives. Most students were happy with the online teaching format, and the mix of both pre-recorded and live lectures. However, several students commented on the poor audio quality for some of the lectures, and we will make sure individual teachers check and potentially update their lectures if needed. The examination was generally appreciated, although some students commented that there was some overlap among the questions on the written exam. We will try to avoid this in the future. Some students commented on the fact that at times there was quite a lot to do at times, e.g., with assignments and literature seminars, but despite this most students spent 26-35 hours per week on average across the course, which indicates there is quite a good balance.
