Course leaders comments

The course has undergone a major revision for this year's implementation (Ht25). Many of the changes have worked well. However, the major adjustments have meant that some information and material has been presented late in the course. As the course this year has been well received overall, we do not intend to make major revisions for next year. This will also mean that information management can be improved. One of the major problems in the course is the capacity of the computers, which we wish to address. Unfortunately, we do not know if there are resources for this for next year but will work for a change. We also want to further strengthen the teaching of Rhino and improve the material that students have access to in the course.

Otherwise, we intend to:

- Improve information management
- Improve information in English
- Clarify the submission requirements for the final assignment
- Review how we can help students to time manage their work
- Review the presentation part, are additional tasks needed to support students at this stage?
