Course leaders comments

As an individual course with very little teacher-led activities (students spend most of their time at a placement where they do an individual internship), this course period had only three students and only one of them has filled in the evaluation. The student seems happy with all elements of the course, and the course has received positive feedback in oral discussions with all students on the course. My impression as course leader is that the course is well settled in routines for handling internships and stimulating students' reflections on their learnings through practice.
